BIG FOUR TRAIN TEARS UP TRACK

Over 150 Yards is Demolished When
Passenger Leaves Rails Just
North of Milroy

PASSENGERS CLOSE ESCAPE

Presence of Mind of Engineer Probably Saved Heavy Loss of Life—
Mrs. Frank Kinnett Hurt.

The tender, baggage car and three passenger coaches, in fact all the train but the engine, of Big Four passenger No. 33, southbound jumped the track near the trestle just north of Milroy yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, but none of the cars turned over and no one was injured to any great extent.

It required all night to clean up the wreck because, although no cars were splintered or broken, approximately 150 yards of track was torn up and had to be replaced before traffic could be resumed. The wreck trains left about seven o'clock this morning when the first trains were able to run over the damaged places.

Passengers congratulated themselves on their narrow escape because if one of the cars had toppled off the trestle, it would have been a dead drop of forty feet and probably all of the train would have been pulled off. Expressman Looman was slightly bruised by trunks, Mrs. Frank Kinnett sustained a fractured rib when the cars left the track. She was standing up preparing to get off at Milroy and was thrown down and several fell on her by the sudden jolting.

John Gantner and Will Newbold of this city, who were on the train, declare that it was through the presence of mind and quick action of the engineer that the wreck was not more serious. The engineer was John Torrance of Anderson. The local men declare that when the first shock came, the engineer at first thought of stopping the train, but then decided that if it did the entire train would likely be thrown off the trestle and down the embankment.

Instead of shutting off the power the engineer threw open the throttle and the speed thus attained was sufficient to carry the train across the bridge. The local men were given the scare of their lives.

"At first," said Mr. Newbold, "I thought the engineer was trying his air getting ready to make the stop for Milroy. Then the bumping continued and the train began to sway back and forth. We were in the smoker and as we passed over the bridge I saw something was wrong because of the large volume of dust being thrown in the windows. Considering the fact that the wheels were off the track the stop was made with very little jar. After it was all over we realized what a narrow escape we had, but the accident occurred so quickly that at the time we did not know what was really going on."

The tender jumped the track about fifty yards north of the trestle and went bumping along on the rails as far as the trestle when the baggage car left the rails. It is said that the passenger coaches did not leave the track until the trestle had been

OLDEST RURAL MAIL CARRIER RESIGNS

Frank Redman, Who Received First Appointment in County 17 Years Ago, to Quit August 14.

LEO SCHETGEN APPOINTED

Leo Schetgen has been appointed rural letter carrier to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Frank Redman. Schetgen will begin his duties on August 14. Schetgen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schetgen. Some years ago he qualified for the position of city carrier, but did not accept the appointment from Charles A. Frazee, then postmaster.

Mr. Redman resigned because of ill health. On July 1 he completed seventeen years' service as a rural carrier. Mr. Redman was the first rural carrier in Rush county, and one of the first in the state. He began working for the government on July 1, 1899. The appointment of Schetgen has been known for some time but official announcement from Washington was received today.

BICYCLE HITS AN AUTO AMIDSHIPS

Charles Pusey, Age 15, is Stunned When His Wheel Hits L. E. Galbreath's Car in Alley

SAID TO BE UNAVOIDABLE

Charles Pusey, 15 years old, was slightly hurt this morning when the bicycle he was riding collided with an auto driven by L. E. Galbreath of Indianapolis. The accident occurred at the alley intersection in the rear of the E. R. Casady store.

The accident was unavoidable, according to witnesses. The automobile was going north in the alley and the boy was riding east. Before either could stop, the bicycle crashed into the side of the machine, throwing the boy heavily to the brick pavement. He was stunned for a time, but soon revived and for the most part his injuries consist of bruises. The bicycle was almost demolished.

IMMENSE CROWD ENJOYS BANQUET

About Fifty Rushville Business Men and Others From County Guests at Newcastle.

COUNTRY CLUB IDEAL PLACE

District Meeting Hears Address by Judge Sparks in Afternoon and A. E. Leiter at Night.

About fifty Rushville business men and others from other points in the county enjoyed the fine hospitality of Newcastle business men at a fried chicken banquet at the Newcastle Country Club last evening, following a business session in the afternoon at the district meeting of the Hoosier Business Men's association.

Approximately two hundred men partook of the abundant feast that was spread on the veranda of the club house and in the shade of the beautiful trees that adorn the Newcastle Country Club. The Newcastle men proved themselves most excellent hosts, as they always have done, which Rushville has learned on many past occasions.

George Barnard, former mayor of Newcastle, presided as toastmaster at the banquet and A. E. Leiter of Connersville spoke on "Credits and Collections." Walter Bonner of Greensburg made a short talk about James Whitcomb Riley and recited some of Riley's poems. J. E. Zeolring and Roy Kannouse, both of Greensburg, were called on to tell some stories.

William C. Pulse of Greensburg, president of the association, will call a meeting of the executive committee in the near future, probably for Rushville, when the date and place for the next district meeting will be selected and some special committees will be appointed to carry on the work of the association.

George Barnard also presided at the afternoon meeting at the Newcastle library. In a short welcoming address, Mr. Barnard told of the rapid industrial growth of Newcastle in the last few years, during which time she has grown from a slumbering village of 3,500 to a city of approximately 15,000 inhabitants. During the course of his remarks in the evening he said Newcastle manufacturing establishments were now paying out $65,000 a week in wages.

Judge Will M. Sparks, who was the principal speaker in the afternoon, cautioned business men to watch their economies, live within their means, "treat your customers right and give value received and you will succeed." He said living within one's means applied to young business men especially.

Judge Sparks commented that it was a fine thing to get together as the business men of the district have been doing because the meetings help all of them.

"There are just three things in the retail business," said Judge Sparks. "They are the buyer, the seller and the merchandise. If business is bad, whose fault is it? Business men have reached a stage where they must study these three things."

"What is the matter with the buyer? Nothing at all. There are more than there ever were. What is the matter with the merchandise? Nothing at all. There is more being handled than in the history of the world. What is the matter with the seller? You will have to answer that for yourself."

"We are many times fooled by what draws business. Let me tell you that your personality is a big

CHAUTAUQUA IS ADVERTISED

Flying Squadron Reports Interest Among People of County—Goes Out Again Friday.

LARGE BILLS DISTRIBUTED

Meeting of Board of Directors Will be Held Friday Evening at City Park.

The county was being extensively billed today for the Rush county chautauqua, which will open next Sunday and will be continued up to and including the following Sunday. Immense posters advertising the moving picture "Indiana," which will be shown on Thursday, Indiana Day, have been placed at many points in the county.

The first of the flying squadrons advertising the Rush county chautauqua, which opens Sunday, went out last night, and while the number of the delegation was not large, the enthusiasm was not lacking and large crowds greeted the boosters at every stop.

Two machines containing a chorus of singers visited Glenwood, Falmouth, Raleigh and Mays. Because the chautauqua opened at Carthage last night the western part of the trip was abandoned except to distribute advertising matter in Arlington and Carthage. The members of the flying squadron report that the people of the county are showing the usual interest in the chautauqua and that the advance sale of season tickets is up to all expectations.

The last advertising trip will be made Friday night. Machines will leave here at six-thirty o'clock. The singers, accompanied by Dwight Van Osdel, cornetist, will visit Homer, Manilla, Gwynneville and Morris-town. Six pieces of the Rushville band will be taken along with the other party. This party will visit Milroy, Clarksburg and New Salem.

Many farmers have inquired whether their automobiles will be safe in the chautauqua grounds. This caused the chautauqua management to announce today that there will be two special policemen who will keep constant watch on the automobiles parked in the park to make certain that there will be no robberies.

The board of directors of the chautauqua will meet at the city park Friday evening at seven o'clock, at the call of President T. M. Green.

BRITISH LINER SENT DOWN

Britannic, Unarmed, Sent Down, and Identity is Established

(By United Press.)
London, August 3.—The unarmed liner Britannic, owned by W. H. Cockerline and company, has been sunk, it was announced today. The ship was a sealed screw vessel of 3,487 tons and not the big liner as was at first feared.

Lloyd's register lists three vessels named the Britannic, one of them the huge White Star liner of 47,500 tons displacement, one of the biggest passenger ships afloat. The other Britannics are owned by W. H. Cockerline and company, and a Norwegian firm. Two other British registry but the last named Britannic flies the Norwegian flag.

Boys of Battery B From Here Anticipate a Discharge From Border Duty in Month

STARTING TARGET PRACTICE

Rushville boys with Battery B. on the Mexican border expect to be on their way home by the first of next month, according to advices received in private letters from the border. One Rushville young man with Battery B has written that there is little doubt but that Battery B will be discharged by September 1, in accordance with plans announced several days ago that all units composed of college men or formed at colleges or universities would be discharged in time to enter school at the fall term so that their college course would not be interrupted. Battery B is composed mostly of Purdue university students and Rushville boys who enlisted in the battery are expecting to be discharged when the battery is.

According to one letter written about the first of this month, there remained nothing for Battery B but thirty days of target practice, and then the discharge was expected.

TWO AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE HEADON

G. P. McCarty's and A. M. Taylor's Car Hit in North Main Street, Both Being Damaged

2 OCCUPANTS SLIGHTLY HURT

The automobiles driven by Arie M. Taylor, county clerk, and G. P. McCarty collided in North Main street, near the corner of Sixth street last night, resulting in considerable damage to the Taylor machine. The collision occurred as they attempted to pass, McCarty driving southward and Taylor going to the north.

The radiator of the Taylor machine was badly damaged and the front axle bent. Little damage resulted to the McCarty car. McCarty claims he was watching some boys riding bicycles who were holding on to his machine and failed to see the other car approaching. Mr. Taylor states that he was going around a pony cart and was still on the right side of the street when the car hit. Mrs. Taylor and daughter Miss May were slightly injured. Mr. McCarty admits he was in the center of the street.

HAS A PLAN FOR PARTY'S FUTURE

J. M. Parker Would Fight for Presidential Electors in States Where Chances are Good

LEADING SPIRIT WITH B. M.

Nominee for Vice-President Sees Chance For Balance of Power —Not to go on Record

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., August 3.—Cheering every mention of a national ticket and every denunciation of the "delivery" of the Progressive party to Charles E. Hughes by the national committee, the Progressive national conference got under way at noon today—one hour behind scheduled time.

Definite action and any statement that may be made probably will not come until late this afternoon or tonight. The conference recessed at 1:30 to meet again at three o'clock.

Upon the demand of a majority of the delegates, the meeting was open to all comers, the conference promised to be prolonged.

As the conference convened John Parker made known for the first time his plans for the party.

"My plan," he said in an interview, "is to concentrate the Progressive fight on a few states where there is the best chance to elect presidential electors. We shall not have a presidential candidate, and so these electors could swing to the candidate ready to make the most concessions to Progressives. If neither side conceded enough and if we held the balance of power in the electoral college, we could then bring the election into the house of representatives."

Party leaders who are gathered here today for the national conference that will lay down the policy for the party for this campaign will decide not to place a national ticket in the field, but will arrange for a party conference to be called soon after the election in November to make aggressive four-year plans for 1920. This was the opinion expressed by several of the leaders before the conference opened at 11 a. m.

There is no chance that the conference will go on record as favoring either Woodrow Wilson nor Charles E. Hughes for president, according to these same leaders, who pointed out that this conference was called as a protest against the action of the national Progressive committee, which favored the election of Hughes.

"There are only two possibilities for this conference to declare, shall we have a national ticket or will we not," said John M. Parker, the convention nominee for vice-president when he was seen by the United Press at breakfast with L. A. Laughlin of Kansas City. "There is no possibility that we shall endorse Wilson or Hughes," he continued.

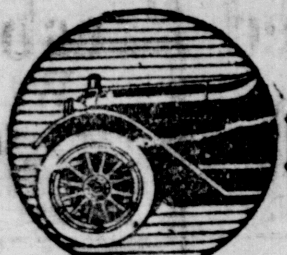

Parker than said in answer to a question that he believed there would not be a national ticket because the party had no suitable man to head it. He said he would refuse the nomination for president if it was offered to him.

Parker said he would refuse to give advice to either Wilson or Hughes as to how to capture the Progressive vote. He then launched into a vigorous bit of advice for President Wilson.

"If Wilson sees his opportunity he will get a double barreled shotgun and go after Kitchen and Hoke Smith who are opposing his child

STATE FAIR SHOW OF '17 MOTOR CARS

Big Auto Exposition to Be Opened on Sept. 4.

FIRST VIEW OF NEW MODELS

Visitors to Indiana Fair Will See the New Cars Months Before They Are Shown Elsewhere.

The greatest autumn automobile show in the United States is that staged by the Indianapolis Automobile Trade association and it will be held again in connection with the Indiana state fair the week of Sept. 4. It will be on the same mammoth scale which has characterized it for the last two years and it will display the motor cars for 1917 months before they are exhibited in the winter shows.

The big motor show at the Indiana fair has established itself as the greatest autumn exposition of its kind in the country. Practically every prominent make and model is represented, including touring, roadsters and closed cars, and with them are to be seen the great array of tires and other accessories.

Never in the history of the motor car industry have these vehicles reached such perfection as those that are being made for next year. Four, six and twin-ax motors, electric starting and lighting, clover leaf and other seating plans, and luxuriant appointments and graceful designs that were unknown two or three years ago make the cars for 1917 a revelation.

The motor show gives special advantages for seeing and comparing the different makes in one great display. Because of its size, there is no building available on the Indiana fair ground large enough to house the motor show, and the coming display will be seen in an enormous tent. Since no additional admission is charged, practically all of the 200,000 visitors to the state fair will see the auto show.

RICH DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

State Fair Will Give Gorgeous Night Program.

The most gorgeous displays of centennial fireworks to be fired in Indiana this year will be seen at the big night spectacle which will be the centenary feature of the state fair the week of Sept. 4. The spectacle itself will be a brilliant historical review of Indiana for 100 years and the fireworks program each evening has been especially made up for the big patriotic demonstration.

The fireworks will include a long list of special set pieces, one of them showing the evolution of transportation in Indiana from the ox team down to the modern locomotive. Another feature will be a Hoosier barnyard scene, showing a barn covered with fiery flowers, where a farmer is feeding his chickens while the cows and pigs look on.

One of the richest displays will be a Hoosier rose in evolution, showing the formation of the leaves, the opening of the bud, the full blown flower, gradually fading in its loveliness until its petals fall.

Georgious skyrockets, salutes to Old Glory, centennial peace bouquets fired hundreds of feet in the air, and other superb features will combine in making the program the greatest of the kind ever seen in Indiana.

FISH, FOOD, FORESTRY EXHIBITS AT STATE FAIR

A new feature of interest to all visitors at the coming Indiana state fair will be a large exhibit of fish from the lakes and streams of the state, which will be exhibited by Eugene Shireman, fish and game commissioner. Fifty varieties of the finny tribe, from the smallest perch to the largest bass and carp, will be shown in twenty-five aquariums, making it the greatest show of fish from Indiana waters that has ever been made.

The Indiana board of forestry will have an extensive exhibit in its building on the fair grounds, and a number of the lumber companies will join in making the forestry display on much greater scale than usual.

The Indiana food commissioner will also make a great exhibit at the fair, one of the features being of fraudulent weights and measures taken from unscrupulous dealers over the state, and another will be an unsanitary grocery store, showing how foods are handled in some unclean stores, and still another will be a clean grocery that handles only pure foods.

All of these state government exhibits will have high educational value and will team with attraction for all visitors at the fair.

J. A. Whitacker's Car Ditched When

A Ford touring car owned by J.
A. Whitacker of Iowa, enroute to Ohio, went into the ditch six miles west of the city this afternoon, resulting in considerable damage to the machine. The occupants escaped injury. Mrs. Whitacker was driving at the time and it is believed that a small rock in the road caused her to lose control and the machine headed down a four foot embankment. The right front wheel was broken off and the front axle bent. The windshield was smashed. The machine did not turn over but rested on the radiator
on the embankment.

Meeting an Emergency

It is gratifying to the average layman to know that the National Guard of the several states lists in its roster many officers of an exceptionally high order of ability. A case of this kind has come to notice in the recent movement of troops to the Mexican border. When the National Guard of Illinois was ordered to the mobilization camp at Springfield the burden of equipping these 11,405 Illinois

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. troops for war service devolved upon Colonel S. O. Tripp, assistant quartermaster general of Illinois.

The problem was one of gigantic proportions, but quietly, systematically and without flourish of trumpets this officer went to work and within ten days every organization was completely equipped and on its way to the border.

It is doubtful if such a record has ever before been made by any National Guard officer in the United States.

Colonel Tripp handled the proposition not only in his capacity as assistant quartermaster General of Illinois, but also as the government's camp quartermaster at the mobilization camp, an intermingling of official duties which required military efficiency of the highest order. He met the emergency and made good.

Negroes Shocked

Indiana Democratic politicians, who have been planning to make a bid for colored votes this fall, were shocked when a Arkansas Democratic congressman introduced a bill in Congress the other day to prevent colored men from enlisting in the army or navy. This added manifestation of the old time hatred of the negro race by the Democratic party came at a most inopportune time for the Indiana Democratic politicians who have been figuring that possibly they might fool some of the colored Indiana voters into voting their ticket at the coming election.

On July 27th, 1916, Representative Caraway introduced the following bill in Congress:

A Bill to prevent the enlistment of Negroes in the Military service of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That hereafter there shall not be enlisted or re-enlisted in the Military service of the United States, either in the army or navy, any person of the negro or colored race.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

"I am hoping that every Republican in Indiana will do his share to see to it that the attention of every taxpayer in Indiana is called to the two cards that were placed in every street and interurban car in the state recently by the Republican state committee," said a large taxpayer while visiting at Republican state headquarters the other day. One of these cards contained the following:

Your Taxes Too High

Last year, it cost $11,870,621.52 to run the state government, under a Democratic administration. During 1908, the last year of the last Republican administration it cost only $7,569,513.91 to run the state government. Difference, $4,301,107.61. WHY?

On the other card appears the following:

Do You Know

It cost Indiana taxpayers $490.99 MORE every hour last year. Under a Democratic administration, to run the state government than it did during 1908 the last year of the last Republican administration?

A Young Men's Republican Club has been organized at Marshall, Ind., with fifty charter members. All but twelve young men of the community are members of this organization.

The trend towards Republicanism continues. The supply of ballots was not nearly large enough to take care of all the voters who wanted to participate in the recent Republican primaries in Oklahoma.

Life is just one day after another until we reach the end, but the question of whether those days will be of sunshine or shadow rests entirely with us.

OFFERS WAY TO LESSEN CRIME

Cleveland Prosecutor Finds Out
That 90 Per Cent of Crooks
are Bachelors

WANTS EARLY MARRIAGES

Says Women Criminals Never Tell
The Truth and a Majority of
Them are Single

WHAT PROSECUTOR LEARNED ABOUT CROOKS

Ninety per cent of criminals are bachelors.
Only half of married men who become crooks have children.
Women who take up crime are single or separated from their families.
Women crooks won't tell the truth.
If a married man gets into trouble, he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor.
The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages.

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, August 3.—After an investigation of 400 criminal cases, James J. Lind, Cleveland chief police prosecutor, has found out that nine tenths of all crooks are unmarried. Two thirds of the men jailed were between the ages of 21 and 30, according to figures, available here today.

"It seems that conditions in unmarried life tend to make men criminals or that persons with criminal instincts are inclined not to marry," concluded Lind after his investigation.

"In 400 cases which passed through my office there was no definite economic condition that would result in crime.

"Only about half of the married prisoners had children and many of the married ones were separated from their families.

"As a rule women who take up crime are also single or at least separated from their husbands or families.

"This is hard to prove because women prisoners are not inclined to tell the truth. When a woman lands in jail she generally claims to be married and says if her husband hears of her predicament he will forsake her forever. She also claims to be the mother of several small children, dependent on her care—all of which, nine times out of ten, is untrue.

"If a married man gets into trouble he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor. If a married man with children finds his way behind the bars, it is usually money troubles which have placed him there.

"But if any particular class of the human family is a menace to the rest, unmarried men are the guilty ones.

"The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages. What a man needs to keep him out of trouble is a good home environment.

"If mothers realized this they would cease opposing early marriages."

The Rural School Term

Talk Two

(By J. L. McBrien, School Extension Agent, United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C.)

The deplorable conditions existing in the rural schools of Arkansas on account of the short term of school are pointed out in our previous talk. Let us hope, however, that a better day is dawning for the rural schools of Arkansas. There is a State-wide campaign now on in Arkansas to amend the Constitution so as to make the maximum school tax 12 mills, instead of 7 mills as at present. Dr. Charles H. Brough, the newly nominated candidate of the Democratic party for Governor, pledged himself before the State Teachers' Association at Little Rock in April to tour the entire State in a campaign in favor of this amendment for a higher school tax. There is now a well organized campaign on in Arkansas among educators, business and professional men in favor of this amendment.

As we have noted in previous talks in this series, regarding the length of the school term, there are rural school districts in California with only a 50-day school term; in Colorado, with only a 55-day school term; in Florida, with only a 30-day school term in Georgia, with only a 25-day term; in Illinois, with only a 44-day school term; in Iowa, with only a 40-day school term; in North Dakota, with only a 20-day school term; in South Dakota, with only a 50-day school term; in Tennessee, with only a 55-day school term; and in Texas, with only a 30-day school term. And there are other States in which the campaign for a longer rural school term should be waged in season and out season.

As a rule, when we speak of lengthening the school term, it presupposes the need of more money. But in our next talk we shall endeavor to show how the school term may be lengthened without voting another mill of school tax. It is due the taxpayer, so far as possible, that we increase the school term without increasing his tax; but where this is impossible, the taxpayer must be patriotic enough to be willing to pay the necessary increase of school tax. If the patriotism of the taxpayer will not prompt him to do this, he should do it for the sake of enlightened selfishness if for no higher purpose. He should know, with Edward Everett, that "Education is a better safe guard of liberty than a standing army;" with Benjamin H. Hill that "No nation ever yet paid too much for the education of its people, and the more it pays for this purpose the richer and the more powerful it will become."

factor in your business. I love to go into a place of business and be treated right. If you have the stomachache, keep it in your stomach and out of your face. Satisfy your people. Nine times out of ten if you are losing business it is your own fault. The man who is honest with his patrons is the man who gets the business. The dissatisfied customer is against you.

"The question of human efficiency is entering more and more into the question of business. The man who accomplishes things is the man who does one thing at a time. He concentrates his mind. Having the whole force efficient is another point in human efficiency. A manager who does not get the most work out of his force is no manager at all.

"The garnishee bill is all right, but it will not cure all evils. If a man can't pay you one week, what reason have you to believe that he will pay you the next? You should have nerve enough to say no to the man who never expects to pay you when he gets the merchandise."

CHAUTAUQUA AT CARTHAGE OPENS

First Night Program Consisting of

Music Draws Big Crowd

TO CONTINUE UNTIL SUNDAY

The Carthage chautauqua opened with a good sized crowd last night and will continue until next Sunday evening. Although not quite all the season tickets have been sold to make the guarantee fund, the Carthage people who are behind the assembly believe that it will pay out all right.

The program was given last night by the Maestersingers, a quartet of unusual ability. Dr. E. C. Williams, pastor of the Grace M. E. church in Chicago, delivered the address on the subject, "The City and the Soil," which was largely an account of the crime wave in Chicago. He wore a Chicago police badge, which was given to him, he said, by the police commissioners. He was thus rewarded after he had done efficient service for the police.

The Collegiate Trio is at the chautauqua today, giving a prelude this afternoon and J. H. Souwbrey spoke on the topic, "True, Full Nature of Man." Tonight the trio will sing again and Gilbert A. Eldredge, impersonator, will give the program.

A MEETING IN COURT HOUSE

With hopes of definitely organizing a branch of the Congressional Union here, Miss Eleanor Barker of Indianapolis state chairman of the organization, will be here Saturday afternoon and conduct a meeting in the court house assembly room at 4 o'clock. Every one who is interested in woman suffrage, whether they are ready to join an organization or not, is urged to attend the meeting. Men will also be welcome and it is hoped that a large crowd will meet Miss Barker.

The first visit of the representatives from the Congressional Union here, somewhat changed the opinion of the women interested in the movement, who had been in favor of organizing a branch of the Franchise League. In general, the women interested in woman suffrage favor the Congressional Union inasmuch as their plan to insert a national amendment to the constitution seems more plausible and more possible than the plan suggested by the Franchise League of winning suffrage through the state. The recent action by Candidate Charles E. Hughes in declaring himself in favor of a national amendment for suffrage has given encouragement to the members of the Union.

In her two speeches here, Miss Barker proved her ability and her knowledge of conditions relative to suffrage. Sunday, she is to leave for the west where she will campaign for the Congressional Union and help in the organization of the Women's Party, whose vote will be used as a balance of power in favor of suffrage.

at Glenbush, a comfortable club house in the woods east of Connersville, the guests were seated at small tables on the veranda, where the four-course luncheon was served. There, small baskets containing bouquets of marigold decorated the tables and larger ones were all about the club house. Place cards bearing an appropriate design in the same color marked the places for the guests, including thirteen local girls, twelve Brookville and seventeen hostesses from Connersville. The luncheon was delicious, and shortly after the service of it, the guests were gathered about the card tables where some played five hundred and others played bridge. Mrs. Jack Knecht of this city won one of the honors, which was a beautiful Tri Kappa ring.

Miss Helen Norris entertained at her home east of the city today Miss Lillian Bell and Miss Kathryn Hutchinson of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Lois Reeves and Miss Dorothy Sparks of this city. An elegant chicken dinner was served.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard and children, Ward and Fred, have returned from a visit in Seymour. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ruby Davis who will remain for a visit. On their return they stopped off at a camp near Franklin where Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everoad, formerly of this city were chaperones.

WOMAN TRIES TO SAVE BOYS SOUND THRASHING.

London, August 3—A kind hearted and spendthrift woman in police court here today failed to save six little boys getting four strokes apiece with birch whips for stealing tickets to a scenic railway. "Don't whip them," begged the woman, standing up in court, "I'll buy them at a dollar a stroke." She raised the ante to $5 and as the bailiff led her out she yelled: "I bid $250 for the lot!" But the boys were lashed.

FAREWELL PARTY

Miss Ina Hinman, who together with her parents, is to move to Indianapolis Saturday, was surprised last evening when the members of her Sunday School class burst in upon her bringing their suppers with them. The supper was spread on the porch and served in buffet style. Members of the class arranging the surprise were the Misses Frances Lyons, Leona Rankin, Hazel Risk, Louise Hogsett and Dorothy Moore.

FOR GUEST

Miss Sarah Tarbeaux of Chicago, who after a short visit with Mrs. Esther McCloud left for Louisville, Ky., yesterday was honored with several pleasant affairs during her visit here. On one evening an indoor picnic was given for her by Mrs. McCloud. Several young ladies were invited in for the picnic supper which was served. Wednesday evening, a theatre party was given in her honor at the Princess, after which the guests went to the home of Mrs. Esther McCloud, where a light luncheon was served.

FOR MR. AND MRS. TROUTMAN

Two pretty dinners were given today for Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Troutman of Nicholasville, Ky., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Willard Amos of North Perkins street. At noon today, they were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Meredith. A bountiful dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Jabez Winship, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett and son, and Mrs. Stevens, who were guests, aside from the guests of honor.

This evening, they are to be the guests of Mrs. O. M. Harton and Mrs. J. M. Amos at the country home of Mrs. Harton. The table has been arranged with summer roses and the guests are to be Mr. and Mrs. Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Amos, Miss Mary Amos, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Amos and Miss Clorenne Amos.

State Board of Health Will Seek to Have Law Compelling Permanent Health Officer

TO APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE

Estimated $5,000,000 Now Expended in Sickness and Disease Could be Saved in Indiana

The State Board of Health announces if each county had an all-time, well trained, competent health officer there would be saved to the state annually $5,000,000 now unnecessarily expended in sickness and disease. The Board says: "The health laws are lacking. The laws are comparable to good locomotives without skilled engineers to run them. Only a small percentage of the present health officers are familiar with the health laws and health rules and a very small percentage have had instructions and training in hygiene and sanitary science.

The present law requires that practicing physicians must earn their living practicing curative medicine and receive a little money on the side for practicing preventative medicine for the public. In several ways this system of health officers defeats the ends of the health laws.

For instance, one county health commissioner was asked—why don't you abolish that miserable livery stable near the hotel which is so insanitary and propagates thousands of flies? He replied, "the law compels me to earn my living practicing medicine and the person who owns that livery stable is the richest person in town and is my patient. I dare not offend him."

One county health commissioner was paid over $1,000 for his services last year and his books show that he rendered 27 days services to his county. This was payment at the rate of $31.00 for each day. We may conclude then that in his county the people had health protection for 27 days for $1,000 and went without health protection for about 300 days. This is expensive health protection.

The people of Indiana spend not less than $20,000,000 annually in being sick and dying of diseases which could be largely prevented. As said, we have the laws but we have not the educated, trained, all-time health officers to execute them. The Board therefore will propose to the next legislature that the present health officer system be abolished and a rational, economic and efficient business system be adopted.

Five states have already adopted the system of all-time skilled officers. They are New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and North Carolina. Surgeon General Gorgas, the world's most eminent sanitarian and also all authorities in sanitation say—"The crying demand in public health work is the ALL-TIME HEALTH OFFICER."

crossed. Then the whole train ran a distance of probably seventy-five yards before it was brought to a stop.

The first wreck train brought from Greensburg was not equal to the task of lifting the heavy coaches back on the track and a large steam crane was sent down from Indianapolis by way of Greensburg to complete the task.

Passengers on the northbound train coming up in the evening were transferred at the trestle and taken on through.

It was considered rather remarkable that no car turned over when so much track was torn up and the train jolted along on the ties for so great a distance. No reason for the tender leaving the track in the first place has been assigned.

BARBERS BELIEVE LAW NOT VALID

Plea That Anti-Picketing Ordinance Is Unconstitutional in Police Court

CASE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Five union barbers charged with violating the anti-picketing ordinance rested their defense in police court today on the plea that the ordinance is unconstitutional. The court was to act today on a demurrer filed by the defense in its attack on the ordinance. The picket of the barbers, being on the downtown streets, has attracted much attention, and for that reason has focussed the efforts of those for and against the union labor principal.

The anti-picketing ordinance prohibits the carrying of placards, banners, advertising posters, of any kind, and hand bills in the streets of Indianapolis. The demurrer contains the statement the ordinance is contrary to section one, article fourteen; section nine; article one; and section twenty-three, article one of the constitution of the United States.

It also states the wearing of a shirt displaying a statement does not constitute the carrying of a placard, and that the ordinance does not affect everyone, but only certain classes of persons.

From the samples collected there was found to be a large number of affected by smut, scab and fusarium sartrius. Washington—General Obregon is the popular and logical choice of the Mexican people in the Tampico district according to Frank Axtell, formerly of Washington, but now connected with a large Tampico oil company, who has been visiting here. Tampico Mexicans are dissatisfied with the Carranza administration, says Axtell.

HAS A PLAN FOR PARTY'S FUTURE

labor bill," he said. "He should tell these two leaders that they aren't fit to be in congress. It is my shame that the southern men are opposing this legislation."

Progressive leaders from every state were arriving during the early hours today from nearly every state, coming in twos and threes. Many came in yesterday and last night. Probably fifty progressives had arrived at 9 a. m. The conference started at 11 o'clock in the Claypool hotel.

A point of contention before the conference opened was whether it would be open to the press and public. The general impression was that it would go into executive session and reach the public through formal statements.

Bainbridge Colby's statement issued in New York last week was taken today by many as the key note for this conference. "My idea is that his conference will issue a statement to the Progressives of the country, rehearsing the hidden strategy of our convention, the traitorous action of our national committee and its subsequent repudiating in all the state where there was free expression and action. I think we should place the responsibility for the party's unhappy plight just where it belongs, and take such steps as are possible for assembling the party's representatives after election day, and then taking measures for the continuation and renewal of the party."

"Should the conference give up the idea of holding a convention the action of the individual progressives on the presidency will be left where it belongs—to their judgment and conscience."

Edwin M. Lee, progressive chairman for Indiana, said that no matter what action the conference takes as to a national ticket, the plans of the Progressive party in Indiana will remain the same—there will be an aggressive campaign in every county for the state and county tickets.

Asked which of the two major parties this campaign would be likely to be hurt most, Lee replied.

"We are not going into this fight to hurt anybody, but we are going to present our platform of principals before the people. The platform of the Democratic and Republican parties in Indiana are hopelessly stand-pat. There are scores of thousands of Indians who will revolt against these stand-pat platforms and espouse the progressive cause."

country, but the spirit is concentrated in "See your Home State First." That scenic beauty exists beneath the sky of one's own state as well as a thousand miles beyond the horizon, is fast becoming a conviction with every motorist who possesses a pennyweight of state pride. The prophet may lie buried beneath the same indifferent contempt that has ever enveloped him, but the beauty spots and natural wonders of their own country are emerging to honor.

When August 6 dawns, the greatest of American tours will get going with more automobilists on the road than this nation has ever seen. Hundreds, yes, thousands of motorists are now charting tours to take them through sections of their state they have never visited, and arranging their vacations to coincide with the great national automobile outing.

National Touring Week is a big family affair. Every motorist plans to take his family into the great open, where he will find the re-invigoration of a rest, that comes from new scenes and thoughts.

QUICKEN TO CALL OF TOURING WEEK

Automobile Manufacturers Answer Impulse That National Touring Week Brings.

ARE BOOSTING MOVEMENT

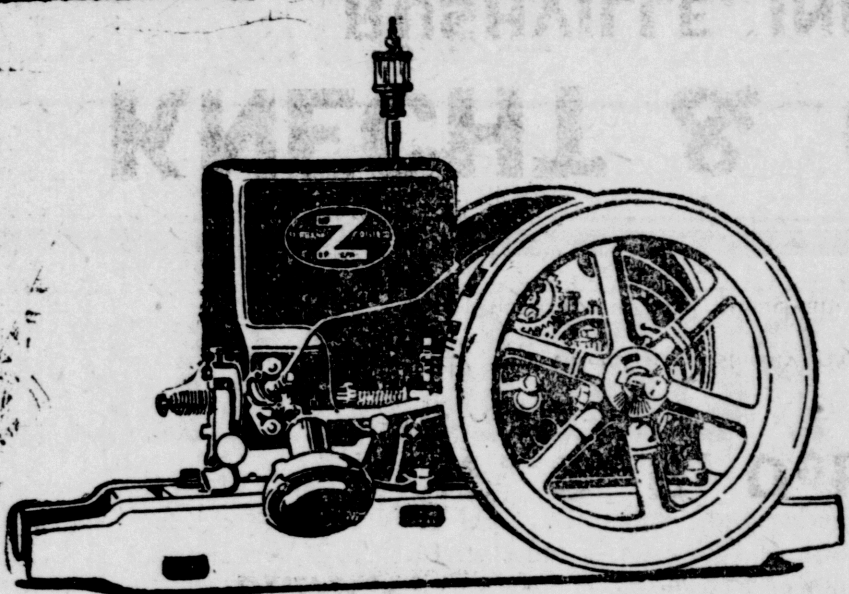

Branch Offices and District Agencies Are Doing All in Their Power to Boost It.

Automobile manufacturers by dozens have quickened to the call of National Touring Week. The impulse to make the week beginning August 6 a national motoring holiday has grown into an organized movement that now includes every department of the automobile industry, and every phase of motor touring. The automobile manufacturers, dating their concentrated ardor for a national outing on the road from the World Salesmanship Congress at Detroit, sprang to the boosting of the movement with their characteristic vigor, sending it sweeping across the continent.

Branch offices and district agencies are being notified to enlist behind National Touring Week, and speed the starting of it with a hurrah. A hundred selling organizations of the motor car business have put their power into the movement, and more are joining the boosting corps every day. The desire to take your car, or buy a new car, and be ready when the great day comes—August 6—to set forth on a tour of discovery of the beauty spots of your home state is being whetted in a thousand cities and towns of this nation.

BIG FOUR TRAIN TEARS UP TRACK

Over 150 Yards is Demolished When
Passenger Leaves Rails Just
North of Milroy

PASSENGERS CLOSE ESCAPE

Presence of Mind of Engineer Probably Saved Heavy Loss of Life—
Mrs. Frank Kinnett Hurt.

The tender, baggage car and three passenger coaches, in fact all the train but the engine, of Big Four passenger No. 33, southbound jumped the track near the trestle just north of Milroy yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, but none of the cars turned over and no one was injured to any great extent.

It required all night to clean up the wreck because, although no cars were splintered or broken, approximately 150 yards of track was torn up and had to be replaced before traffic could be resumed. The wreck trains left about seven o'clock this morning when the first trains were able to run over the damaged places.

Passengers congratulated themselves on their narrow escape because if one of the cars had tumbled off the trestle, it would have been a dead drop of forty feet and probably all of the train would have been pulled off. Expressman Looman was slightly bruised by trunks, Mrs. Frank Kinnett sustained a fractured rib when the cars left the track. She was standing up preparing to get off at Milroy and was thrown down and several fell on her by the sudden jolting.

John Gantner and Will Newbold of this city, who were on the train, declare that it was through the presence of mind and quick action of the engineer that the wreck was not more serious. The engineer was John Torrance of Anderson. The local men declare that when the first shock came, the engineer at first thought of stopping the train, but then decided that if it did the entire train would likely be thrown off the trestle and down the embankment.

Instead of shutting off the power the engineer threw open the throttle and the speed thus attained was sufficient to carry the train across the bridge. The local men were given the scare of their lives.

"At first," said Mr. Newbold, "I thought the engineer was trying his air getting ready to make the stop for Milroy. Then the bumping continued and the train began to sway back and forth. We were in the smoker and as we passed over the bridge I saw something was wrong because of the large volume of dust being thrown in the windows. Considering the fact that the wheels were off the track the stop was made with very little jar. After it was all over we realized what a narrow escape we had, but the accident occurred so quickly that at the time we did not know what was really going on."

The tender jumped the track about fifty yards north of the trestle and went bumping along on the rails as far as the trestle when the baggage car left the rails. It is said that the passenger coaches did not leave the track until the trestle had been

Frank Redman, Who Received First
Appointment in County 17 Years Ago, to Quit August 14.

LEO SCHETGEN APPOINTED

Leo Schetgen has been appointed rural letter carrier to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Frank Redman. Schetgen will begin his duties on August 14. Schetgen is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schetgen. Some years ago he qualified for the position of city carrier, but did not accept the appointment from Charles A. Frazee, then postmaster.

Mr. Redman resigned because of ill health. On July 1 he completed seventeen years' service as a rural carrier. Mr. Redman was the first rural carrier in Rush county, and one of the first in the state. He began working for the government on July 1, 1899. The appointment of Schetgen has been known for some time but official announcement from Washington was received today.

BICYCLE HITS AN AUTO AMIDSHIPS

Charles Pusey, Age 15, is Stunned
When His Wheel Hits L. E.
Galbreath's Car in Alley

SAID TO BE UNAVOIDABLE

Charles Pusey, 15 years old, was slightly hurt this morning when the bicycle he was riding collided with an auto driven by L. E. Galbreath of Indianapolis. The accident occurred at the alley intersection in the rear of the E. R. Casady store.

The accident was unavoidable, according to witnesses. The automobile was going north in the alley and the boy was riding east. Before either could stop, the bicycle crashed into the side of the machine, throwing the boy heavily to the brick pavement. He was stunned for a time, but soon revived and for the most part his injuries consist of bruises. The bicycle was almost demolished.

IMMENSE CROWD ENJOYS BANQUET

About Fifty Rushville Business Men and Others From County Guests at Newcastle.

COUNTRY CLUB IDEAL PLACE

District Meeting Hears Address by Judge Sparks in Afternoon and
A. E. Leiter at Night.

About fifty Rushville business men and others from other points in the county enjoyed the fine hospitality of Newcastle business men at a fried chicken banquet at the Newcastle Country Club last evening, following a business session in the afternoon at the district meeting of the Hoosier Business Men's association. Approximately two hundred men partook of the abundant feast that was spread on the veranda of the club house and in the shade of the beautiful trees that adorn the Newcastle Country Club. The Newcastle men proved themselves most excellent hosts, as they always have done, which Rushville has learned on many past occasions.

George Barnard, former mayor of Newcastle, presided as toastmaster at the banquet and A. E. Leiter of Connersville spoke on "Credits and Collections." Walter Bonner of Greensburg made a short talk about James Whitcomb Riley and recited some of Riley's poems. J. E. Zeolring and Roy Kanhouse, both of Greensburg, were called on to tell some stories.

William C. Pulse of Greensburg president of the association, will call a meeting of the executive committee in the near future, probably for Rushville, when the date and place for the next district meeting will be selected and some special committees will be appointed to carry on the work of the association.

George Barnard also presided at the afternoon meeting at the Newcastle library. In a short welcoming address, Mr. Barnard told of the rapid industrial growth of Newcastle in the last few years, during which time she has grown from a slumbering village of 3,500 to a city of approximately 15,000 inhabitants. During the course of his remarks in the evening he said Newcastle manufacturing establishments were now paying out $65,000 a week in wages.

Judge Will M. Sparks, who was the principal speaker in the afternoon, cautioned business men to watch their economies, live within their means, "treat your customers right and give value received and you will succeed." He said living within one's means applied to young business men especially.

Judge Sparks commented that it was a fine thing to get together as the business men of the district have been doing because the meetings help all of them.

"There are just three things in the retail business," said Judge Sparks. "They are the buyer, the seller and the merchandise. If business is bad, whose fault is it? Business men have reached a stage where they must study conditions and they must study these three things."

"What is the matter with the buyer? Nothing at all. There are more than there ever were. What is the matter with the merchandise? Nothing at all. There is more being handled than in the history of the world. What is the matter with the seller? You will have to answer that for yourself."

"We are many times fooled by what draws business. Let me tell you that your personality is a big

CHAUTAUQUA IS ADVERTISED

Flying Squadron Reports Interest
Among People of County—Goes Out Again Friday.

LARGE BILLS DISTRIBUTED

Meeting of Board of Directors Will be Held Friday Evening at City Park.

The county was being extensively billed today for the Rush county chautauqua, which will open next Sunday and will be continued up to and including the following Sunday. Immense posters advertising the moving picture "Indiana," which will be shown on Thursday, Indiana Day, have been placed at many points in the county.

The first of the flying squadrons advertising the Rush county chautauqua, which opens Sunday, went out last night, and while the number of the delegation was not large, the enthusiasm was not lacking and large crowds greeted the boosters at every stop.

Two machines containing a chorus of singers visited Glenwood, Fairmount, Raleigh and Mays. Because the chautauqua opened at Carthage last night the western part of the trip was abandoned except to distribute advertising matter in Arlington and Carthage. The members of the flying squadron report that the people of the county are showing the usual interest in the chautauqua and that the advance sale of season tickets is up to all expectations.

The last advertising trip will be made Friday night. Machines will leave here at six-thirty o'clock. The singers, accompanied by Dwight Van Osdel, cornetist, will visit Homer, Manilla, Gwynnville and Morris-town. Six pieces of the Rushville band will be taken along with the other party. This party will visit Milroy, Clarksburg and New Salem.

Many farmers have inquired whether their automobiles will be safe in the chautauqua grounds. This caused the chautauqua management to announce today that there will be two special policemen who will keep constant watch on the automobiles parked in the park to make certain that there will be no robberies.

The board of directors of the chautauqua will meet at the city park Friday evening at seven o'clock, at the call of President T. M. Green.

(By United Press.)

London, August 3.—The unarmed liner Britannic, owned by W. H. Cockerline and company, has been sunk, it was announced today. The ship was a sealed screw vessel of 3,497 tons and not the big liner as was at first feared.

Lloyd's register lists three vessels named the Britannic, one of them the huge White Star liner of 47,500 tons displacement, one of the biggest passenger ships afloat. The other Britannics are owned by W. H. Cockerline and company, and a Norwegian firm. Two other British registry but the last named Britannic flies the Norwegian flag.

Fred Wyand of Newcastle formerly of this city is here for a short visit.

EXPECT TO BE ON WAY HOME SEPT. 1

Boys of Battery B From Here Anticipate a Discharge From Border Duty in Month

STARTING TARGET PRACTICE

Rushville boys with Battery B on the Mexican border expect to be on their way home by the first of next month, according to advices received in private letters from the border. One Rushville young man with Battery B has written that there is little doubt but that Battery B will be discharged by September 1, in accordance with plans announced several days ago that all units composed of college men or formed at colleges or universities would be discharged in time to enter school at the fall term so that their college course would not be interrupted. Battery B is composed mostly of Purdue university students and Rushville boys who enlisted in the battery are expecting to be discharged when the battery is.

According to one letter written about the first of this month, there remained nothing for Battery B but thirty days of target practice, and then the discharge was expected.

TWO AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE HEADON

G. P. McCarty's and A. M. Taylor's
Car Hit in North Main Street,
Both Being Damaged

2 OCCUPANTS SLIGHTLY HURT

The automobiles driven by Arie M. Taylor, county clerk, and G. P. McCarty collided in North Main street, near the corner of Sixth street last night, resulting in considerable damage to the Taylor machine. The collision occurred as they attempted to pass, McCarty driving southward and Taylor going to the north.

The radiator of the Taylor machine was badly damaged and the front axle bent. Little damage resulted to the McCarty car. McCarty claims he was watching some boys riding bicycles who were holding on to his machine and failed to see the other car approaching. Mr. Taylor states that he was going around a pony cart and was still on the right side of the street when the car hit. Mrs. Taylor and daughter Miss Mary were slightly injured. Mr. McCarty admits he was in the center of the street.

HAS A PLAN FOR PARTY'S FUTURE

LEADING SPIRIT WITH B. M.

Nominee for Vice-President Sees Chance For Balance of Power
—Not to go on Record

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., August 3.—Cheering every mention of a national ticket and every denunciation of the "delivery" of the Progressive party to Charles E. Hughes by the national committee, the Progressive national conference got under way at noon today—one hour behind scheduled time.

Definite action and any statement that may be made probably will not come until late this afternoon or tonight. The conference recessed at 1:30 to meet again at three o'clock.

Upon the demand of a majority of the delegates, the meeting was open to all comers, the conference promised to be prolonged.

As the conference convened John Parker made known for the first time his plans for the party.

"My plan," he said in an interview, "is to concentrate the Progressive fight on a few states where there is the best chance to elect presidential electors. We shall not have a presidential candidate, and so these electors could swing to the candidate ready to make the most concessions to Progressives. If neither side conceded enough and if we held the balance of power in the electoral college, we could then bring the election into the house of representatives."

Party leaders who are gathered here today for the national conference that will lay down the policy for the party for this campaign will decide not to place a national ticket in the field, but will arrange for a party conference to be called soon after the election in November to make aggressive four-year plans for 1920. This was the opinion expressed by several of the leaders before the conference opened at 11 a. m.

There is no chance that the conference will go on record as favoring either Woodrow Wilson nor Charles E. Hughes for president, according to these same leaders, who pointed out that this conference was called as a protest against the action of the national Progressive committee, which favored the election of Hughes.

"There are only two possibilities for this conference to declare, shall we have a national ticket or will we not," said John M. Parker, the convention nominee for vice-president when he was seen by the United Press at breakfast with L. A. Laughlin of Kansas City. "There is no possibility that we shall endorse Wilson or Hughes," he continued.

Parker then said in answer to a question that he believed there would not be a national ticket because the party had no suitable man to head it. He said he would refuse the nomination for president if it was offered to him.

Parker said he would refuse to give advice to either Wilson or Hughes as to how to capture the Progressive vote. He then launched into a vigorous bit of advice for President Wilson.

"If Wilson sees his opportunity he will get a double barreled shotgun and go after Kitchen and Hoke Smith who are opposing his child

STATE FAIR SHOW OF 17 MOTOR CARS

Big Auto Exposition to Be Opened on Sept. 4.

FIRST VIEW OF NEW MODELS

Visitors to Indiana Fair Will See the New Cars Months Before They Are Shown Elsewhere.

The greatest autumn automobile show in the United States is that staged by the Indianapolis Automobile Trade association and it will be held again in connection with the Indiana state fair the week of Sept. 4. It will be on the same mammoth scale which has characterized it for the last two years and it will display the motor cars for 1917 months before they are exhibited in the winter shows.

The big motor show at the Indiana fair has established itself as the greatest autumn exposition of its kind in the country. Practically every prominent make and model is represented, including touring, roadsters and closed cars, and with them are to be seen the great array of tires and other accessories.

Never in the history of the motor car industry have these vehicles reached such perfection as those that are being made for next year. Four, six and eight cylinder motors, electric starting and lighting, clover leaf and other seating plans, and luxuriant appointments and graceful designs that were unknown two or three years ago make the cars for 1917 a revelation.

The motor show gives especial advantages for seeing and comparing the different makes in one great display. Because of its size, there is no building available on the Indiana fair ground large enough to house the motor show, and the coming display will be seen in an enormous tent. Since no additional admission is charged, practically all of the 200,000 visitors to the state fair will see the auto show.

RICH DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

State Fair Will Give Gorgeous
Night Program

The most gorgeous displays of centennial fireworks to be fired in Indiana this year will be seen at the big night spectacle which will be the centenary feature of the state fair the week of Sept. 4. The spectacle itself will be a brilliant historical review of Indiana for 100 years and the fireworks program each evening has been especially made up for the big patriotic demonstration.

The fireworks will include a long list of special set pieces, one of them showing the evolution of transportation in Indiana from the ox team down to the modern locomotive. Another feature will be a Hoosier barnyard scene, showing a barn covered with fiery flowers, where a farmer is feeding his chickens while the cows and pigs look on.

One of the richest displays will be a Hoosier rose in evolution, showing the formation of the leaves, the opening of the bud, the full blown flower, gradually fading in its loveliness until its petals fall.

Georgious skyrockets, salutes to Old Glory, centennial peace bouquets fired hundreds of feet in the air, and other superb features will combine in making the program the greatest of the kind ever seen in Indiana.

FISH, FOOD, FORESTRY EXHIBITS AT STATE FAIR

A new feature of interest to all visitors at the coming Indiana state fair will be a large exhibit of fish from the lakes and streams of the state, which will be exhibited by Eugene Shireman, fish and game commissioner. Fifty varieties of the finny tribe, from the smallest perch to the largest bass and carp, will be shown in twenty-five aquariums, making it the greatest show of fish from Indiana waters that has ever been made.

The Indiana board of forestry will have an extensive exhibit in its building on the fair grounds, and a number of the lumber companies will join in making the forestry display on much greater scale than usual.

The Indiana food commissioner will also make a great exhibit at the fair, one of the features being of fraudulent weights and measures taken from unscrupulous dealers over the state, and another will be an unsanitary grocery store, showing how foods are handled in some unclean stores, and still another will be a clean grocery that handles only pure foods.

All of these state government exhibits will have high educational value and will prove with attraction for all visitors at the fair.

A Ford touring car owned by J.

Ohio, went into the ditch six miles
west of the city this afternoon, resulting in considerable damage to the machine. The occupants escaped injury. Mrs. Whitacker was driving
at the time and it is believed that a small rock in the road caused her to lose control and the machine headed down a four foot embankment. The right front wheel was broken off and
the front axle bent. The windshield was smashed. The machine did not turn over but rested on the radiator
on the embankment.

Meeting an Emergency.

It is gratifying to the average layman to know that the National Guard of the several states lists in its roster many officers of an exceptionally high order of ability.

A case of this kind has come to notice in the recent movement of troops to the Mexican border.

When the National Guard of Illinois was ordered to the mobilization camp at Springfield the burden of equipping these 11,405 Illinois troops for frontier service devolved upon Colonel S. O. Tripp, assistant quartermaster general of Illinois.

The problem was one of gigantic proportions, but quietly, systematically and without flourish of trumpets this officer went to work and within ten days every organization was completely equipped and on its way to the border.

It is doubtful if such a record has ever before been made by any National Guard officer in the United States.

Colonel Tripp handled the proposition not only in his capacity as assistant quartermaster General of Illinois, but also as the government's camp quartermaster at the mobilization camp, an intermingling of official duties which required military efficiency of the highest order. He met the emergency and made good.

Negroes Shocked

Indiana Democratic politicians, who have been planning to make a bid for colored votes this fall, were shocked when an Arkansas Democratic congressman introduced a bill in Congress the other day to prevent colored men from enlisting in the army or navy. This added manifestation of the old time hatred of the negro race by the Democratic party came at a most inopportune time for the Indiana Democratic politicians who have been figuring that possibly they might fool some of the colored Indiana voters into voting their ticket at the coming election.

On July 27th, 1916, Representative Caraway introduced the following bill in Congress:

A Bill to prevent the enlistment of Negroes in the Military service of the United States.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That hereafter there shall not be enlisted or re-enlisted in the Military service of the United States, either in the army or navy, any person of the negro or colored race.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

"I am hoping that every Republican in Indiana will do his share to see to it that the attention of every taxpayer in Indiana is called to the two cards that were placed in every street and interurban car in the state recently by the Republican state committee," said a large taxpayer while visiting at Republican state headquarters the other day. One of these cards contained the following:

Your Taxes Too High

Last year, it cost $11,870,621.52 to run the state government, under a Democratic administration. During 1908, the last year of the last Republican administration it cost only $7,569,513.91 to run the state government. Difference, $4,301,107.61. WHY?

On the other card appears the following:

Do You Know

It cost Indiana taxpayers $490.99 MORE every hour last year. Under a Democratic administration, to run the state government than it did during 1908, the last year of the last Republican administration?

A Young Men's Republican Club has been organized at Marshall, Ind., with fifty charter members. All but twelve young men of the community are members of this organization.

The trend towards Republicanism continues. The supply of ballots was not nearly large enough to take care of all the voters who wanted to participate in the recent Republican primaries in Oklahoma.

Life is just one day after another until we reach the end, but the question of whether those days will be of sunshine or shadow rests entirely with us.

OFFERS WAY TO LESSEN CRIME

Cleveland Prosecutor Finds Out

That 90 Per Cent of Crooks

WANTS EARLY MARRIAGES

Says Women Criminals Never Tell

The Truth and a Majority of

Them are Single

WHAT PROSECUTOR LEARNED ABOUT CROOKS

Ninety per cent of criminals are bachelors.

Only half of married men who become crooks have children.

Women who take up crime are single or separated from their families.

Women crooks won't tell the truth.

If a married man gets into trouble, he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor.

The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages.

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, August 3.—After an investigation of 400 criminal cases, James J. Lind, Cleveland chief police prosecutor, has found out that nine tenths of all crooks are unmarried. Two thirds of the men jailed were between the ages of 21 and 30, according to figures, available here today.

"It seems that conditions in unmarried life tend to make men criminals or that persons with criminal instincts are inclined not to marry," concluded Lind after his investigation.

"In 400 cases which passed through my office there was no definite economic condition that would result in crime.

"Only about half of the married prisoners had children and many of the married ones were separated from their families.

"As a rule women who take up crime are also single or at least separated from their husbands or families.

"This is hard to prove because women prisoners are not inclined to tell the truth. When a woman lands in jail she generally claims to be married and says if her husband hears of her predicament he will forsake her forever. She also claims to be the mother of several small children, dependent on her care—all of which, nine times out of ten, is untrue.

"If a married man gets into trouble he generally commits a real crime, not a misdemeanor. If a married man with children finds his way behind the bars, it is usually money troubles which have placed him there.

"But if any particular class of the human family is a menace to the rest, unmarried men are the guilty ones.

"The way to lessen crime is to advocate early marriages. What a man needs to keep him out of trouble is a good home environment.

"If mothers realized this they would cease opposing early marriages."

The Rural School Term

Talk Two

The deplorable conditions existing in the rural schools of Arkansas on account of the short term of school are pointed out in our previous talk. Let us hope, however, that a better day is dawning for the rural schools of Arkansas. There is a State-wide campaign now on in Arkansas to amend the Constitution so as to make the maximum school tax 12 mills, instead of 7 mills as at present. Dr. Charles H. Brough, the newly nominated candidate of the Democratic party for Governor, pledged himself before the State Teachers' Association at Little Rock in April to tour the entire State in a campaign in favor of this amendment for a higher school tax. There is now a well organized campaign on in Arkansas among educators, business and professional men in favor of this amendment.

As we have noted in previous talks in this series, regarding the length of the school term, there are rural school districts in California with only a 50-day school term; in Colorado, with only a 55-day school term; in Florida, with only a 30-day school term in Georgia, with only a 25-day term; in Illinois, with only a 44-day school term; in Iowa, with only a 40-day school term; in North Dakota, with only a 20-day school term; in South Dakota, with only a 50-day school term; in Tennessee, with only a 55-day school term; and in Texas, with only a 30-day school term. And there are other States in which the campaign for a longer rural school term should be waged in season and out season.

As a rule, when we speak of lengthening the school term, it presupposes the need of more money. But in our next talk we shall endeavor or to show how the school term may be lengthened without voting another mill of school tax. It is due the taxpayer, so far as possible, that we increase the school term without increasing his tax; but where this is impossible, the taxpayer must be patriotic enough to be willing to pay the necessary increase of school tax. If the patriotism of the taxpayer will not prompt him to do this, he should do it for the sake of enlightened selfishness if for no higher purpose. He should know, with Edward Everett, that "Education is a better safe guard of liberty than a standing army," with Benjamin H. Hill that "No nation ever yet paid too much for the education of its people," and the more it pays for this purpose the richer and the more powerful it will become."

factor in your business. I love to go into a place of business and be treated right. If you have the stomachache, keep it in your stomach and out of your face. Satisfy your people. Nine times out of ten if you are losing business it is your own fault. The man who is honest with his patrons is the man who gets the business. The dissatisfied customer is against you.

"The question of human efficiency is entering more and more into the question of business. The man who accomplishes things is the man who does one thing at a time. He concentrates his mind. Having the whole force efficient is another point in human efficiency. A manager who does not get the most work out of his force is no manager at all.

"The garnishee bill is all right, but it will not cure all evils. If a man can't pay you one week, what reason have you to believe that he will pay you the next? You should have nerve enough to say no to the man who never expects to pay you when he gets the merchandise."

Music Draws Big Crowd

TO CONTINUE UNTIL SUNDAY

The Carthage chautauqua opened with a good sized crowd last night and will continue until next Sunday evening. Although not quite all the season tickets have been sold to make the guarantee fund, the Carthage people who are behind the assembly believe that it will pay out all right.

The program was given last night by the Maestersingers, a quartet of unusual ability. Dr. E. C. Williams, pastor of the Grace M. E. church in Chicago, delivered the address on the subject, "The City and the Soil," which was largely an account of the crime wave in Chicago. He wore a Chicago police badge, which was given to him, he said, by the police commissioners. He was thus rewarded after he had done efficient service for the police.

The Collegiate Trio is at the chautauqua today, giving a prelude this afternoon and J. H. Souwbreij spoke on the topic, "True, Full Nature of Man." Tonight the trio will sing again and Gilbert A. Eldredge, impersonator, will give the program.

HOPES TO FORM A RUSHVILLE BRANCH

Miss Eleanor Barker, State Chairman Congressional Union, Will be Here Saturday Afternoon

A MEETING IN COURT HOUSE

With hopes of definitely organizing a branch of the Congressional Union here, Miss Eleanor Barker of Indianapolis state chairman of the organization, will be here Saturday afternoon and conduct a meeting in the court house assembly room at 4 o'clock. Every one who is interested in woman suffrage, whether they are ready to join an organization or not, is urged to attend the meeting. Men will also be welcome and it is hoped that a large crowd will meet Miss Barker.

The first visit of the representatives from the Congressional Union here, somewhat changed the opinion of the women interested in the movement, who had been in favor of organizing a branch of the Franchise League. In general, the women interested in woman suffrage favor the Congressional Union inasmuch as their plan to insert a national amendment to the constitution seems more plausible and more possible than the plan suggested by the Franchise League of winning suffrage through the state. The recent action by Candidate Charles E. Hughes in declaring himself in favor of a national amendment for suffrage has given encouragement to the members of the Union.

In her two speeches here, Miss Barker proved her ability and her knowledge of conditions relative to suffrage. Sunday, she is to leave for the west where she will campaign for the Congressional Union and help in the organization of the Women's Party, whose vote will be used as a balance of power in favor of suffrage.

at Glenbush, a comfortable club house in the woods east of Connersville, the guests were seated at small tables on the veranda, where the four-course luncheon was served. There, small baskets containing bouquets of marigold decorated the tables and larger ones were all about the club house. Place cards bearing an appropriate design in the same color marked the places for the guests, including thirteen local girls, twelve Brookville and seventeen hostesses from Connersville. The luncheon was delicious, and shortly after the service of it, the guests were gathered about the card tables where some played five hundred and others played bridge. Mrs. Jack Knecht of this city won one of the honors, which was a beautiful Tri Kappa ring.

Miss Helen Norris entertained at her home east of the city today Miss Lillian Bell and Miss Kathryn Hutchinson of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Lois Reeves and Miss Dorothy Sparks of this city. An elegant chicken dinner was served.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubbard and children, Ward and Fred, have returned from a visit in Seymour. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ruby Davis who will remain for a visit. On their return they stopped off at a camp near Franklin where Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everoad, formerly of this city were chaperones.

WOMAN TRIES TO SAVE BOYS SOUND THRASHING.

London, August 3—A kind hearted and spendthrift woman in police court here today failed to save six little boys getting four strokes apiece with birch whips for stealing tickets to a scenic railway.

"Don't whip them," begged the woman, standing up in court, "I'll buy them at a dollar a stroke." She raised the ante to $5 and as the bailiff led her out she yelled: "I bid $250 for the lot!" But the boys were lashed.

State Board of Health Will Seek to Have Law Compelling Permanent Health Officer

TO APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE

Estimated $5,000,000 Now Expended in Sickness and Disease Could be Saved in Indiana

The State Board of Health announces if each county had an all-time, well trained, competent health officer there would be saved to the state annually $5,000,000 now unnecessarily expended in sickness and disease. The Board says: "The health laws are lacking. The laws are comparable to good locomotives without skilled engineers to run them. Only a small percentage of the present health officers are familiar with the health laws and health rules and a very small percentage have had instructions and training in hygiene and sanitary science.

The present law requires that practicing physicians must earn their living practicing curative medicine and receive a little money on the side for practicing preventative medicine for the public. In several ways this system of health officers defeats the ends of the health laws.

For instance, one county health commissioner was asked—why don't you abolish that miserable livery stable near the hotel which is so insanitary and propagates thousands of flies? He replied, "the law compels me to earn my living practicing medicine and the person who owns that livery stable is the richest person in town and is my patient. I dare not offend him."

One county health commissioner was paid over $1,000 for his services last year and his books show that he rendered 27 days services to his county. This was payment at the rate of $31.00 for each day. We may conclude then that in his county the people had health protection for 27 days for $1,000 and went without health protection for about 300 days. This is expensive health protection.

The people of Indiana spend not less than $20,000,000 annually in being sick and dying of diseases which could be largely prevented. As said, we have the laws but we have not the educated, trained, all-time health officers to execute them. The Board therefore will propose to the next legislature that the present health officer system be abolished and a rational, economic and efficient business system be adopted. Five states have already adopted the system of all-time skilled officers. They are New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and North Carolina. Surgeon General Gorgas, the world's most eminent sanitarian and also all authorities in sanitation say—"The crying demand in public health work is the ALL-TIME HEALTH OFFICER."

crossed. Then the whole train ran a distance of probably seventy-five yards before it was brought to a stop.

The first wreck train brought from Greensburg was not equal to the task of lifting the heavy coaches back on the track and a large steam crane was sent down from Indianapolis by way of Greensburg to complete the task.

Passengers on the northbound train coming up in the evening were transferred at the trestle and taken on through.

It was considered rather remarkable that no car turned over when so much track was torn up and the train jolted along on the ties for so great a distance. No reason for the tender leaving the track in the first place has been assigned.

BARBERS BELIEVE LAW NOT VALID

Plea That Anti-Picketing Ordinance Is Unconstitutional in Police Court

CASE ATTRACTS ATTENTION

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—Five union barbers charged with violating the anti-picketing ordinance rested their defense in police court today on the plea that the ordinance is unconstitutional. The court was to act today on a demurrer filed by the defense in its attack on the ordinance. The picket of the barbers, being on the downtown streets, has attracted much attention, and for that reason has focussed the efforts of those for and against the union labor principal.

The anti-picketing ordinance prohibits the carrying of placards, banners, advertising posters, of any kind, and hand bills in the streets of Indianapolis. The demurrer contains the statement the ordinance is contrary to section one, article fourteen; section nine; article one; and section twenty-three, article one of the constitution of the United States.

It also states the wearing of a shirt displaying a statement does not constitute the carrying of a placard; and that the ordinance does not affect everyone, but only certain classes of persons.

HOOSIER BRIEFS

LaPorte—Thirty per cent of the wheat in LaPorte county is diseased according to County Agent L. F. Clore. From the samples collected there was found to be a large number of affected by smut, scab and fusarium scab. Use of the formaldehyde treatment would have cut down the percentage very much, according to Clore.

Washington—General Ahlgren is the popular and logical choice of the Mexican people in the Tampico district, according to Frank Axtell, formerly of Washington, but now connected with a large Tampico oil company, who has been visiting here. Tampico Mexicans are dissatisfied with the Carranza administration, says Axtell.

Brazil—Contract will be let the last of this month for one of the largest drainage projects in the state. The project known as the Mizer ditch will cost approximately $275,000 and consists in straightening, widening and deepening the channel of the Bel river. Clay, Owen and Greene counties will be affected.

HAS A PLAN FOR PARTY'S FUTURE

labor bill," he said. "He should tell these two leaders that they aren't at home in congress. It is my shame that the southern men are opposing this legislation."

Progressive leaders from every state were arriving during the early hours today from nearly every state, coming in twos and threes. Many came in yesterday and last night. Probably fifty progressives had arrived at 9 a. m. The conference started at 11 o'clock in the Claypool hotel.

A point of contention before the conference opened was whether it would be open to the press and public. The general impression was that it would go into executive session and reach the public through formal statements.

Bainbridge Colby's statement issued in New York last week was taken today by many as the key note for this conference. "My idea is that his conference will issue a statement to the Progressives of the country, rehearsing the hidden strategy of our convention, the traitorous action of our national committee and its subsequent repudiating in all the state where there was free expression and action. I think we should place the responsibility for the party's unhappy plight just where it belongs, and take such steps as are possible for assembling the party's representatives after election day, and then taking measures for the continuation and renewal of the party."

"Should the conference give up the idea of holding a convention the action of the individual progressives on the presidency will be left where it belongs—to their judgment and conscience."

Edwin M. Lee, progressive chairman for Indiana, said that no matter what action the conference takes as to a national ticket, the plans of the Progressive party in Indiana will remain the same—there will be an aggressive campaign in every county for the state and county tickets.

Asked which of the two major parties this campaign would be likely to be hurt most, Lee replied:

"We are not going into this fight to hurt anybody, but we are going to present our platform of principals before the people. The platform of the Democratic and Republican parties in Indiana are hopelessly stand-pat. There are scores of thousands of Indianans who will revolt against these stand-pat platforms and espouse the progressive cause."

country, but the spirit is concentrated in "See your Home State First." That scenic beauty exists beneath the sky of one's own state as well as a thousand miles beyond the horizon, is fast becoming a conviction with every motorist who possesses a pennyweight of state pride. The prophet may lie buried beneath the same indifferent contempt that has ever enveloped him, but the beauty spots and natural wonders of their own country are emerging to honor.

When August 6 dawns, the greatest of American tours will get going with more automobilists on the road than this nation has ever seen. Hundreds, yes, thousands of motorists are now charting tours to take them through sections of their state they have never visited, and arranging their vacations to coincide with the great national automobile outing.

"National Touring Week is a big family affair. Every motorist plans to take his family into the great open, where he will find the re-invigoration of a rest, that comes from new scenes and thoughts."

Automobile Manufacturers Answer Impulse That National Touring Week Brings.

ARE BOOSTING MOVEMENT

Branch Offices and District Agencies Are Doing All in Their Power to Boost It.

Automobile manufacturers by dozens have quickened to the call of National Touring Week. The impulse to make the week beginning August 6, a national motoring holiday has grown into an organized movement that now includes every department of the automobile industry, and every phase of motor touring. The automobile manufacturers, dating their concentrated ardor for a national outing on the road from the World Salesmanship Congress at Detroit, sprang to the boosting of the movement with their characteristic vigor, sending it sweeping across the continent.

Branch offices and district agencies are being notified to enlist behind National Touring Week, and speed the starting of it with a hurrah. A hundred selling organizations of the motor car business have put their power into the movement, and more are joining the boosting corps every day. The desire to take your car, or buy a new car, and be ready when the great day comes August 6—to set forth on a tour of discovery of the beauty spots of your home state is being whetted in a thousand cities and towns of this nation.
